

Condor's Hope

Among the blue oaks and chaparral, Condor's Hope Ranch is nestled at the foot of the Sierra Madre Mountains in Santa Barbara County. In this region, condors are being released to soar once again after returning from the brink of extinction. Our name captures the hope embodied by their resurgence and the care of the environment needed for all of us to flourish.

The four acres of Condor's Hope dry-farmed grapes are grown in ways that respect and protect our natural surroundings. Winemaker JP Pawloski works with these grapes to transform their deep, zesty flavor into high quality wines that bring the essence of old California to your lips.

We invite you to join Condor's Hope Network where you can order unique wines directly from us and learn about our sustainable practices and our care for the environment while you savor the excellent results.

From our family to you—enjoy!

June 2008

CONDOR'S HOPE WINES NOW AVAILABLE

Zinfandel Santa Barbara County

Kept in American Oak barrels for over 20 months

2004 29 cases remaining as of June 2008..... $15

Vintage notes: Bottled in June 2006, this full-bodied, berry taste comes together with overtones of cherry to bring forth the Zinfandel grape's lushness from the dry-farmed vines. This wine is developing the full 'jammy' flavors of a well-aged zin.

2005 126 cases remaining as of June 2008..... $14

Vintage notes: Bottled in May 2007, this wine delivers the essence of Zin in all aspects. Constant summer temperatures allowed for uniform ripening of the grapes, laying the ground for a wine that offers the nuanced fruit flavors of Zinfandel. This is very enjoyable today and will gain in body over the next few years.

2006 248 cases produced release date: August 2008 ..... $12

Vintage notes: Bottled in June 2008, the ideal 2006 winter rainfall followed by a dry but not excessively hot summer produced concentrated dry-farmed grapes with excellent brix (sugars) at harvest. Full fruit characterizes this zin. At 10 years since planting, this wine shows the maturity characteristic of older vines.

Shiraz Santa Barbara County

Kept in American Oak barrels for over 20 months

2005 45 cases remaining as of June 2008..... $16

Vintage notes: Bottled in May 2007, the 2005 high winter rainfall created extra reserves of water in the soil yielding the mellow spice and pepper flavors of our dry-farmed Shiraz. This wine is ready to enjoy now!

2006 88 cases produced release date: August 2008 ..... $15

Vintage notes: Bottled in May 2008, the ideal winter rainfall of 2006 and even ripening of the grapes promises to bring out the smoky richness of dry-farmed Shiraz. Enjoy this wine now and continue to taste the flavors as they deepen over the next few years.

Celebration Rosé Santa Barbara County

2006 20 cases remaining as of June 2008..... $10

Vintage notes: A delicious blend of zinfandel, mourvèdre, and mission grapes. This wine should be enjoyed now. It has the refreshing presence of a dry white wine combined with the subtle flavors of our dry-farmed reds.

Family Celebrations Rosé Santa Barbara County

2007 46 cases produced release date: July 2008 ..... $10

Vintage notes: Our unique blend of zinfandel, mourvèdre and mission grapes is now ready for your drinking pleasure. An extremely dry year produced a deeper red color with more fruit taste and aroma and a touch of sweetness. Enjoy well chilled!

Our Mentor's Zinfandel Paso Robles

Kept in American Oak barrels for over 20 months

Benito Dusi grew up on the ranch that he farms today just South of Paso Robles, California. He carefully tends zinfandel vines grown in the traditional dry-farmed, head pruned style that he learned from his father. We met Ben when we began planting our vineyard eleven years ago. He soon became our mentor, teaching us these traditional techniques to bring out the flavor of our own grapes at Condor's Hope. We are very pleased to be one of the few small producers of wine from Benito Dusi's old vine Zinfandel.

2004 50 cases remaining as of June 2008..... $20

Vintage notes: This classic dry-farmed, old vine Zinfandel has met all of our expectations. Rich, deep, and full of the Zin fruit, this wine can be enjoyed now or kept for future enjoyment.

2006 56 cases produced release date: August 2008 ..... $18

Vintage notes: A perfect rainfall year produced higher yields of uniform grapes with excellent balance of old vine fruit. Put some of this full berry and spice wine in your cellar for your future enjoyment.
